

RTD facts

The Regional Transportation District was created in 1969 by the Colorado General Assembly to develop, operate, and maintain a mass transportation system for the benefit of 3.03 million people in RTD’s service area. The 2,342 square mile district includes all or parts of eight counties: Denver, Broomfield, the counties of Boulder and Jefferson, the western portions of Adams and Arapahoe counties, the northern portion of Douglas County, and small portions of Weld County annexed by Brighton, Longmont and Erie. RTD’s governing body is a 15-member elected Board of Directors, with each director elected by district for a four-year term. Each director district contains approximately 198,000 residents.
